The "Model Husband" is a treasure in the household. He is also a model of piety and sacred wisdom. He never gives answers to business calls as a panacea for the noise of the children, that his poor wife has to live in all the time. Not he. But he stays in with her "nights" and nurses the sick baby.

He never talks about a divorce just because his wife wants to spend the Summer at Saratoga, nor does he growl if dinner happens to be two hours late. He is especially pleasant when he calls for his cottes, and would feel a broad smile play over
